

FAILURE OF RECALL

CITY ATTORNEY SAYS PETITION IS INVALID THROUGH LACK OF DATE LINES

After many months of work a petition which had been circulated in Glendale, for the purpose of recalling the present city trustees—O. A. Lane, A. W. Tower, J. S. Thompson, George E. Williams and Charles Grist—was filed with the city clerk, Mr. John C. Sherer, a few days ago. The city clerk reports that an accurate count shows that the petition contains 498 names.

It is doubtful, however, if that number is sufficient under the provisions of the Recall Act of 1912, which provides that the petitions "shall be signed by at least 25 per cent of the entire vote cast within such city or town, for all candidates for the office which the incumbent sought to be removed occupied at last preceding municipal election at which such office was voted on."

It will be seen that there is sufficient ambiguity in the wording of the Act to constitute ground for difference of opinion as to how many names may be required on the petition. The petitioners evidently understood it to mean 25 per cent of the ballot cast, which would be 25 per cent of about 1500. On the other hand it is maintained that it means as it says, "25 per cent of the entire vote."

Even if this were not sufficient controversial matter to hold up the petition until the regular election is due it was completely overlooked by the petitioners and their advisers that an amendment of the Recall act in 1915 made it incumbent on each voter to append the date of signing to his signature. This has been entirely overlooked in each case and of necessity invalidates the petition. This is the opinion of City Attorney Evans.

The petition, which is thus invalidated after nearly six months' hard work in obtaining signatures, states that the present city trustees "are inefficient and incompetent for the positions they occupy; that they have created useless municipal offices, and caused to be paid exorbitant salaries to city officials and employees; have maintained and are maintaining a careless, extravagant and wasteful management of the city's affairs; have allowed and caused to be paid demands against the city which were not properly audited as required by law; have created and permitted to accrue debts and liabilities against the city in excess of the limitations fixed by law; have unlawfully expended the funds of the Public Service department, in constructing an addition to the city hall; have entered into an extravagant and unlawful contract with the Miradero Water company, for the lease and option to purchase what is known as the Brand pumping plant; and refused to call an election within the time prescribed by law, to determine the question of re-organizing said city of Glendale as a city of the Fifth Class, after a proper and sufficient petition had been presented to them demanding such election."

It will be seen at once that these accusations are nothing but mere assertions without a scintilla of proof and that where they are less than positive assertions they are mere matters of opinion. The opinion entertained by the vast majority of the community of Glendale of the petition and its allegations can be readily seen in the fact that after several months of hard labor the promoters of the petition were able to secure only 498 names.

ENTERTAIN OLD SCHOOLMATES

In a most attractive setting of pink chrysanthemums and fern fronds Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wood, Sr., of 1430 W. Broadway entertained Wednesday at a high noon dinner, the guests being old schoolmates of the Woods. An elaborate course dinner was served to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Smith, formerly of Michigan, at present wintering in Pasadena, and Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Ijans, also of Michigan, now living in Los Angeles, and the gracious host and hostess.

On Friday these three couples will motor to Santa Monica and meet other old schoolmates from Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cutler, who are spending the winter traveling about California.

TIMELY TOPICS

MUSIC AND DANCING

An exceptionally good impromptu program preceded dancing at the Masonic "Frolic Hop" on the evening of November 16th. Miss Sadie Duncan contributed a vocal selection in a most charming manner, while Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan read in her usually delightful way. Piano numbers were given in solo by Mrs. Masters. Miss Lillian Mason appeared in a piano solo and in duet work with Mrs. Sloan and Mr. Jos. Griffin quite delighted the audience with his splendid readings as did Mr. Chas. Allan in voice. The clever work of Miss Weiler deserves creditable mention for her work as a reader is "finished." Dancing followed this delightful program, punch and wafers being served throughout.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

When Mr. J. W. Cooper arrived home on Tuesday evening, Nov. 16, he was greeted with a very pleasant surprise which Mrs. Cooper had arranged. A number of friends had been invited to dinner to help to celebrate the birthday of the master of the house. The Cooper home at 1017 Melrose was tastefully decorated for the occasion and the usual birthday cake occupied a conspicuous position at the close of the banquet. Those who helped to honor the natal day of the host were: the Misses Mina Robertshaw, Jennie Horsch, Fern Porter, Vivian England and the Messrs. Will Richards, Joe Wilson, H. George Ketterling, all of Glendale, and Harry Berkshire of Los Angeles.

BASKETBALL GAME

One of the most keenly contested basketball games ever witnessed in the High School gymnasium was played Wednesday night between the Senior and Junior Baracas of the First Baptist church. There has been a keen rivalry between these two teams for some time past, but the Juniors have had the best of it. Last time the Juniors won 33 to 18, this time the score was 23-17. In the absence of the captain of the Juniors through sickness, Martin Abarta had charge of the team. Following was the lineup:

Seniors—J. Wolf, c; C. Hare, g; J. Losh, g; L. Tarr, f; R. Dods-worth, f.

Frank Bridgeford and Joseph Maier, who represent the Glendale High school in supporting "Ship Subsidies" tomorrow night, are working hard and will certainly put up a good debate. The reputation of the Los Angeles Lincoln High school insures two good speakers on the negative. Miss Jane McKnight and Milo Jamison are the visiting team, accompanied by Mr. Rice, a former Harvard man.

The hour is 8 o'clock. The admission is 10 cents, except to students who present their membership card.

Samuel Durand and Howard Stickney, with Mr. Root, the debating instructor, go to Santa Monica, where Glendale defends the negative.

BURGLAR ON WHEELS

Utilizing a motorcycle for his operations, a burglar rode up gaily to the home of H. A. Wilson, 200 S. Central, yesterday, ran into the house and having made a cursory survey of the premises with a view to taking what he could find was frightened away by the appearance of the people of the house. Rushing out with the speed of an Olympic sprinter, the would-be burglar wheeled off in a cloud of gasoline smoke. The police were notified and are investigating the case.

BAND WANTS MEMBERS

While the Glendale Municipal band enjoyed a most successful season last summer and is still working with its usual strength it is very desirable that it should have recruits. Any person who plays any band instrument is invited to come to the practice which will be held in the Broadway Garage, corner Broadway and Glendale avenue, Tuesday evening, Nov. 30. They will be made welcome and will find a congenial set of good fellows and many other advantages.

WORK ON WATER LINES ENEMIES INCONSISTENT

PUBLIC SERVICE MANAGER LYNCH TELLS OF PROGRESS IN IMPROVING SYSTEM

"Work on laying the water supply pipe lines is proceeding systematically," said Public Service Manager Lynch to a representative of the Glendale Evening News. "This department in accordance with its policy of keeping ahead of the street work is laying a 6-inch cast-iron pipe on Columbus avenue from Broadway almost to Second street, to connect with the old system."

"We are also ready to lay an 8-inch cast-iron pipe on Brand boulevard from Second street to the city limits on the north. This work is being put in ahead of the asphalt. When this work has been finished there will be an adequate supply of water for all domestic purposes in that section and also, what it has not had hitherto, adequate protection from fire. It will be remembered that at a recent fire in this quarter the water pressure was insufficient. This will be remedied now."

"People are naturally anxious to learn when a better water supply is coming their way. It may be noted that this department is preparing to begin work on the lines on East Third street and on Sinclair avenue and East Second street. That quarter of the city has been very inadequately supplied up to this time and in summer time especially when everybody uses water for irrigation of gardens the pressure has been ludicrously insufficient. It will be remembered in connection with this quarter of the city that a cottage was burned down and totally destroyed while the pressure was not sufficient to enable the department to cope with it effectively. We hope to have that remedied soon."

"Pipe continues to arrive in fulfillment of the second order sent by this department to the east. The pipe comes from the National Cast Iron Pipe company of Birmingham, Ala."

"At every corner stand-hydrants are being put in as the new pipe is laid. We also install hydrants at other points where we find it will be necessary to have proper connection in case of fire. In every way the work has proceeded according to schedule and other work has been planned ahead so that when the time comes that we can get at it everything will be ready for beginning it."

PASTOR TO SPEAK AT METHODIST CHURCH TONIGHT

At the mission services tonight the pastor will be the speaker. The interest in the meetings is increasing and much good is being accomplished. Get in line and get into the meetings. If an old coat, or hat, or pair of shoes comes your way, and they fit, put them on and do not blame the speaker. Services begin at 7:30 sharp.

A Railroad Man's Story

The meeting last night at the Methodist Church was full of interest and enthusiasm. A large congregation assembled to hear "The Story of a Railroad Man." The speaker was J. F. Strong, a Pacific Electric motor-man, and his message gripped his hearers from first to last. Without any attempt at oratory, but in a straightforward, effective way he told the story of his conversion and some incidents in his life since that great event. Smiles and tears chased each other on the faces of his hearers as he dwelt upon different events in his experience.

One thing was evident to all, God had done great things for this man and he wanted men to know it. His large physique and whole-souled earnestness drove his "punches" home with telling effect. Christian men left the meeting with a firmer grip upon themselves and things spiritual, while others found new resolves springing up in their hearts. The pastor will be the speaker at the meeting this evening.

WAR VETERAN DIES

FALLEN PRIEST HONORED BY THOSE WHO WOULD NOT HEAR HIM IN SANCTUARY

Editor the News:
The Catholic church is jealous of the honor and moral rectitude of her clergy. It is her constant aim that they should walk in innocence and blamelessness of life. But whenever any of her clergy is known to have contracted any degraded habits incompatible with his sacred calling he is withdrawn from the active pursuits of the ministry until he has given marks of reformation.

But we find it very hard to please our enemies. They are very inconsistent. If we were to retain a degenerate clergy in the exercise of the public ministry, they would point the finger of scorn at us and say "See how low is the moral standard of the Catholic clergy." If we dismiss one of them from the service of the altar, they will forthwith pick him up from the gutter and receive him as a long-lost brother and take him to their bosom and lead him about the country like some strange animal and exhibit him to public gaze.

He is sure, of course, to misrepresent and malign the church, for what man ever spoke kindly of the mother whom he had insulted and dishonored. His masters are sure to dictate the subjects on which he is to speak, which are popular and attractive for the time being, such as the everlasting inquisition, the confessional and the pope. They affect to believe this man in his fall, whom they would not hear when he was honored in the sanctuary.

If it is a sin to tell a jocose lie, if it is a crime to calumniate one's neighbor, how shall we characterize the offense of those who malign the largest body of Christians in the world? And the calumny becomes all the more reprehensible when uttered from a Christian pulpit, which ought to be the chair of truth. Slander uttered there is an aggravated offense against truth and justice, charity and religion.

REV. JAMES S. O'NEILL,
Pastor Catholic Church, Glendale.

MANY FREIGHT CARS NEEDED

The enormous demands made on the railroads by motor car companies is little realized by the public. The average man reads of the thousands of automobiles being produced each year, but he gives no thought to the complicated task of distributing those cars about the country.

But it is a subject to which the traffic departments of the motor car plants have given considerable thought and attention and many ways have been worked out to utilize the last bit of space in the freight cars. The method used by Dodge Brothers is typical. From this big plant at Detroit completed motor cars are shipped five to the freight car. This is accomplished by virtually arranging for upper and lower berths for the cars.

In loading, a complete car is run into one end of the freight car. Chain tackles are attached to the roof of the car at either end of the automobile and it is lifted to the top of the car. A staunch frame work is built under it after the wheels have been detached. It is carefully blocked and braced and another car run underneath. The wheels remain on this car and they are carefully blocked. Two cars are packed in the other end of the freight car in the same fashion and the fifth motor car is placed in the center of the car. All the cars are carefully covered with heavy paper.

HAPPILY SURPRISED

Very seldom can one go for a stroll and upon their return find the home prettily decorated for an affair and guests assembled, but such was the case in the Murrey Merchison home, 1016 Chestnut street, last evening, when friends surprised them. In the rooms, where a musical program was given and games later enjoyed, artistically arranged were the cut flowers, ferns and long strands of smilax. A substantial though dainty repast, prepared earlier in the evening by the ladies present, was served to the "surprised" ones, Mrs. Samuel Mason and daughters, Gladys and Mrs. W. Roberts of Delano, California, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fortunato, Mr. and Mrs. R. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. R. Antutobus, Mrs. L. Patterson, Miss Mary Merchison and Messrs. E. Wardell, M. Andrews, G. Morrison, G. Bruder and Chas. Merchison.

WHERE AMERICAN BLOOD TELLS

Lord Randolph Churchill, who recently resigned from the headship of the British navy, on account of differences of opinion between himself and Lord Fisher, first lord of the admiralty, is a man of note who is always in the public eye. Churchill is half English, half American, which accounts in some degree for the general activity that characterizes his movements. He had been blamed by the London newspapers for the fiasco of sending troops to Antwerp in time to take part in the downfall of that city and be interned in Holland. He had also received severe criticism for having been, as was alleged, the originator of the Dardanelles expedition.

Churchill has been handicapped by his connection with the government, so that he could make no defense against or answer to these accusations. It was therefore characteristic of the old fighting blood of the Marlboroughs which runs in his veins and of the shrewd Yankee blood which flows there also that Lord Randolph should have resigned from the government, joined the regiment of which he is colonel and be now on his way to the front.

It was also characteristic of his race on this side of the Atlantic that he should not have left without answering his critics and dumfounding them. Churchill in a brilliant speech told the house of commons that he was not responsible for the blunders of Antwerp nor the fiasco of Constantinople. He thus left the country in a blaze of publicity like a good, advertising American.

It will be remembered that the present Lord Churchill is the descendant of the famous Duke of Marlborough, who must have had something of the Yankee in him also. Long before the battle of Blenheim, for which victory he was made a duke; long before even his other famous victories, John Churchill, then a plain lieutenant in the English army, was a favorite of the Duchess of Cleveland, Charles II's mistress. It was from the investment of $5000 which he received from this lady that Churchill founded the fortunes of the Marlboroughs. You may read the story, if you please, in Macaulay's history or in Grammont's Memoirs, where it is told with much piquancy.

This common-sense strain seems to run in the family and had not the present Lord Randolph Churchill's father succumbed to overwork it is likely that he, too, would have left a much deeper impression on English history than he did. As it was he was a noted figure in English parliamentary life even as the present lord is.

Lord Randolph Churchill who now goes to the front as Colonel of an Oxfordshire regiment is no carpet knight. He fought gallantly and well throughout the Boer war and made a sensational escape from Pretoria after having been captured in a train derailment by the Boers. He is likely to distinguish himself in the present war if he is not untimely cut off as so many valiant and gallant men have been in all the armies.

The negro race owes a great deal to Booker T. Washington. He has been a Moses to his people.

A great deal of agitation in some cities would cease if somebody developed a strain of crowless roosters.

A court has gravely held that babies have the right to cry. Just how would the court have gone about enforcing a contrary verdict?

The railroads of this country have spent, it is said, $10,000,000 in advertising this year. And they all consider it a good investment, paying big returns. This ought to serve as a tip to merchants who hesitate about advertising.

For the first time the University of California has a young woman on its intercollegiate debating team. And she won her place, competitively, on her merits, and does not owe the honor to any chivalrous condescension. Bet she has the last word in the big debate, too.

To procure trade in portions of the world not hitherto supplied by the United States, the American manufacturer and shipper must give the regions served the kind of commodities they want. This is the secret of winning and holding a vast deal of patronage in certain quarters of the world. Instead of insisting that these new patrons shall adapt themselves to our kind of wares, we wisely must cater to their peculiar wishes or whims, else we shall not hold them as customers.

Quite a number of American newspapers in sympathy with the preparedness movement are apparently getting real satisfaction out of a statement, attributed to Thomas A. Edison, to the effect that "in just two years the United States will have such a competent defense that it can defy the world." That is where the danger lies. The question is, supposing Mr. Edison to be right, will the United States be so well prepared at the end of two years that it cannot refrain from defying the world in order to show how well it is prepared?—Christian Science Monitor.

President Wilson is a man of resource. Assailed by the "peace-at-any-price" Bryanites, with their leader in full war paint at their head, the president is counting his forces and finding out on whom he can rely before beginning what is likely to be a very bitter fight. There are no more savage fighters than the peace party. The president thinks so much of the necessity for providing the United States with adequate defense that he is willing to drop party lines in regard to it and is now inviting leaders of the Republican party every day to conferences in the White House on the subject. The president, in this matter, is receiving assurances of support from many who do not believe in war, but who do believe in being able to defend oneself when attacked. The conflict bids fair, along with other things, to cause a serious split in the Democratic ranks; for Bryan has a large following.

A REAL HARD TEST

A very long and interesting trip was recently completed by automobile. R. M. Reid, with his father, mother and brother, left their Glendale residence at 215 E. 10th street and started on their long trip up north in an "Overland" car. They left here and went to Bakersfield via Boquet Canyon and Tejon Pass; and from there to Porterville, Fresno, Stockton, Sacramento, Chico. From there they crossed the Pitt River and followed the Sacramento Canyon up past Dunsmuir, and Shasta Springs. From this place they left California in their Overland and crossed into Ashland, Oregon, crossing the Siskiyou mountains, where they encountered many very bad roads and some hard grades, but in speaking of the trip to the local Overland agent, Mr. Meyer, he said that his car took the grades without any trouble whatsoever. Attached to the rear of his car was a trailer with over eight hundred pounds of luggage on it, comprising their camping outfit and baggage. This extra weight (with trailer and luggage) of thirteen hundred pounds was quite an item to pull on thirty or better per cent grades.

From Ashland, Oregon, the party toured through Rogue River Valley, Glendale (Ore.), through Grant's Pass, then they crossed another mountain range (the White Rock mountains), and after crossing these mountains came into Willamette Valley, toured through Roseburg, and up the valley to Eugene, Ore. Thence they went up Mackenzie River and crossed the Cascade mountains near the Three Sisters mountains. At this juncture they encountered eight miles of lava beds which had to be crossed, and which were crossed, but which was hard on the tires. From there they went up the John Day River to Prairie City; then crossed the hardest mountain range of all, the Blue Mountains, with many more thirty-two per cent grades, and hundreds of miles of the worst roads imaginable. After crossing this range they went to Baker City, La Grande, Pendleton, and into Walla Walla, in the state of Washington. From this point they ferried across the Snake River and drove to the city of Spokane. The road between the last two mentioned places was very, very bad, the dust in some places being from six to twelve inches deep. From here they back tracked to Pendleton and then to the Dalles, Oregon, the road being so bad in some places that it was necessary to build up the road with sage brush to get traction. They then returned by practically the same way as they had come and were a very tired but happy party who arrived in Glendale.

The whole trip was made without mishap of any kind and Mr. Reid reports that he never opened his tool kit from beginning of the trip until the return, and that his car "behaved" itself in the most satisfactory manner possible. He thoroughly enjoyed the trip and as he had no mechanical trouble whatsoever, and but a few tire troubles, he was pleased with the trip, and the machine. Considering that he crossed fifteen mountain ranges with many of the hardest grades imaginable, traversing hundreds of miles of dusty and mountain roads, through mountains, valleys, desert and covered over four thousand miles in all without any trouble whatsoever, he has reason to be well pleased. Mr. Reid has driven his Overland considerably and has covered over eighteen thousand miles in it to date, and is well pleased with it in every respect. He is now running an Automobile Service Filling Station at the corner of Brand Blvd. and Sixth street and is always glad to talk about the trip to anyone desiring any information regarding the above named country.

MINERAL SPRINGS OF CALIFORNIA

Among the resources of California of great potential value and as yet only slightly developed are the mineral springs which abound in many parts of the state.

Streams of pure water issue in large volume from the northern lava fields, but some of the desert springs yield strong brines. Some mountain regions yield springs of ice cold water in mid-summer, and in the same vicinity are pools of vigorously boiling water. Water so corrosive that clothing soon falls to pieces under its action is common in some localities; in others issue springs of hot, soft water excellent for laundry use. Several of the more noted springs are mere trickles of pleasant tasting carbonated water; other and larger springs of more delicious natural "soda water" are at present remote from roads and are known only to the hunter and prospector. Many springs form deposits of salt that are welcomed by cattle and wild animals as "deer licks"; others are a menace to small life because of the purgative salts they contain or of the great amount of carbonic acid gas they give off. The chemical constituents produce notable coloring in many waters, giving in some springs shades of yellow, green or blue, and at one place a milky and an ink-black stream issue side by side.

ON HERS

"Tommy," asked the teacher of the geography class, "what do you understand by the 'corn belt'?"
"I never heard of one, ma'am," answered Tommy Tucker. "Maw always uses a plaster."

RHODODENDRON AND ROSE

John Travena says of what is popularly called the Alpine rose that "it is not a rose, in spite of its Greek name, but a big straggling shrub, loving peat and shade like most of the rhododendrons, forsaking sunshine, which the true rose longs for. At many railway stations and stopping places of the funiculars you will perceive peasant children standing about in the hope that passengers will buy their nosegays of deep pink flowers, surrounded by stiff, rusty-leaved or hairy-green foliage. If you ask the name of the plant, those who are bold enough to speak will answer, 'Alpenrose.' Upon the boats of the Swiss or the Italian lakes you may observe groups of tourists wearing edelweiss in their hats and carrying bunches of this same pink flower, which is generally Rhododendron ferrugineum, and sometimes the less common R. hirsutum, the last named being, perhaps, the handsomer of the two.

"These shrubs are fittingly coupled with the edelweiss, for it is almost as general a custom to secure bouquets of the rhododendron as to assume the white cockade from Siberia.

R. ferrugineum is widely distributed, and not in the least fastidious as to position—near the Italian lakes I have found it almost on a level with the water—but hirsutum as a rule prefers a higher place. They are perhaps the handsomest of European wild shrubs, although their habit of growth is untidy. But I wish people would not call them roses! . . . The true Alpine rose, named quite correctly Rosa Alpina, is extremely beautiful, and may be found almost anywhere at the edge of bushes in the stony woods."

Potato Salad

Cut cold boiled potatoes into half-inch cubes and season with salt and pepper, or a few drops of onion juice if desired. Heap in a mound in a salad dish, garnish around edge with a circle of lettuce and hard-boiled eggs, and pour over all a French dressing made as follows:

½ teaspoon salt; ½ teaspoon cayenne; 2 tablespoons vinegar; 4 tablespoons olive oil; little onion juice. Mix the ingredients in the order named, and stir until well mixed. For variety add to two cupfuls of potato one-half cupful of cold beet dice (cooked) and two tablespoons chopped parsley or cheese; carrots and a little chopped celery leaf may be used if preferred.

Many cooked or canned left-over vegetables may be attractively used for salads.

CECIL BRUNNERS

Informal though elaborate was the dinner presided over by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Legrande in their attractive home on West Third street Monday evening.

An artistic crystal basket of dainty Cecil Brunner roses from which fell fern fronds over the snowy cloth beautified the round board. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Leon A. Davis of Los Angeles, Mr. Conrad Davis, an eastern visitor, and the hospitable host and hostess.

FIVE BRANCHES FOR STUDEBAKER

The Studebaker corporation has three new buildings under way, for taking care of the increased business of the territory of these branches, with plans in preparation for two other branch houses. It is the purpose to propose to provide Studebaker patrons in New York City, Kansas City and ultimately other of the larger cities, the same highly efficient service system that has been developed by Studebaker in Detroit.

The other new branch houses are to be erected at Dallas, Tex., and Portland, Oregon, which long ago outgrew present accommodations, but the expansion of Studebaker business in the past year, forced the matter to an immediate issue.

Studebaker is this year building 75,000 automobiles.

Not only does the Studebaker corporation accomodate agents and buyers of the cars by the large branches, but the local agents uniformly furnish excellent service. The local agent, R. A. Siple, stands back of every car sold and guarantees a service to each purchaser that is unequalled by the dealer of any other make automobile in the San Fernando valley.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Roder in E. Acacia avenue was the scene of a very beautiful wedding last night when their daughter Viola was united in marriage with Mr. Percy Weaver of Glendora. The Rev. Don Ford of the First Methodist Episcopal church read the impressive Episcopal marriage service. The young bride not yet out of her teens was a picture of loveliness in her wedding gown of white pussy willow taffeta with garniture of pearls, her veil of tulle fashioned into a charming French cap effect with orange blossoms nestling in her black hair. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and maiden hair fern.

Miss Lena Martin of Los Angeles as maid of honor was gowned in pink taffeta and carried Cecil Brunner roses. Mr. George Roder, brother of the bride, attended Mr. Weaver as best man. The color scheme throughout the house was pink. In the living room an aisle and chancel had been built of white and everywhere were Cecil Brunner roses and streamers of pink tulle. French baskets of roses and huge bows of the tulle and pink-shaded candles adorned the long tables in the dining room where a full course supper was served.

At the bride's table were her bridal party and parents. The bridal table was all in pink, tiny French baskets of Cecil Brunners and streamers of tulle, the chief beauty being in the beautiful wedding cake.

The guests, numbering one hundred, were confined to the relatives and a few intimate friends.

Mr. Weaver and his bride left on their wedding journey by automobile and on their return will make their home in Glendora. Scores of beautiful gifts of silver, cut glass, bric-a-brac and mahogany gave evidence of the popularity of the young couple.

Mrs. S. Ayres was hostess to the Norton Art club on Monday. Election of officers for the coming year took place with these results: President, Mrs. Chapman; vice president, Mrs. Priaulx; secretary and treasurer, Miss Elsie Anderson. Mrs. Frank I. Marsh read a paper on "From Naples to Epidoris." Mrs. Ayres read a paper on "The First Archaeological Research." Mrs. Chapman on "Greece and Servia." Mrs. Priaulx, "The Parthenon." Mrs. Ashton, "Agamemnon and Achilles." Miss Elsie Anderson, recited "The Maid of Athens" and gave a brief history of the life of Byron.

To all of the citizens of Tropicco and this valley who are opposed to Sunday baseball it is desired that it be known that a Saturday ball team has been organized and that hereafter games will be played on the diamond of the municipal playgrounds Saturday afternoons. Saturday this recently organized team will cross bats with the Los Angeles city employees. Thanksgiving afternoon our Tropicco team will enter a warmly contested combat for honors with the Westerners, formerly the Capt. Lyons team. This team has a remarkable record and a fine game is promised.

Merrill Burke, the noted coronetist and assistant director of the Tropicco Concert band, has succeeded to the position of director of this new musical organization of which Tropicco is so justly proud. The band boys meet every Friday evening in the city hall. All interested in the success of the band and all desiring to join this musical aggregation are urged to be present Friday evening.

With the artistic touch of autumn, observed in all of the decorations in the several rooms of her home on North Central avenue Mrs. Frank I. Marsh entertained with a prettily appointed dinner party Tuesday evening, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wilkinson of Los Angeles, Mr. Wilkinson, formerly of Glendale, is

A REAL CONSOLATION

Little Molly's father can't quite see where Molly got her information. One day when her unmarried aunt was visiting at the house Molly became impressed with her aunt's solitary state.

"Haven't you any husband, Aunt Molly?" she asked. Aunt Molly's pretended grief over the fact that she was husbandless was so real to Molly that she undertook the task of consolation. Never mind, dear Aunt Molly, husbands scold."—The Delinquent.

"This country is simply being ruined by this idea of rushing everything."

"Yet where would this country have been if they had arrested Paul Revere for exceeding the speed limit?"

VALLEY VIEW

Frank C. Smedley, who has been working for a Boston firm for several years, arrived at home, 1543 Riverdale, a few days ago, to stay. He reports business conditions in the East as worse than here.

Valley View still holds up her building record. A sixroom bungalow at 1445 Vine and a 7-room one on Colorado near Central avenue are the latest.

Mrs. W. C. Bradley of 1617 Oak street recently received a letter from her husband, who has been in Mexico for two years past. This is the first she has heard from him in many months. He reports conditions worse than we can conceive of. The awful scenes of violence, murder and every other crime known to the calendar have so worn upon him that he has lost nearly 50 pounds in weight. He writes that a pair of ordinary shoes costs $160 Mex., about $23 in our money, and it cost him $14 to get his shoes half-soled. Generally leather is far cheaper there than here.

Mrs. Georgia Carr of 1440 Colorado arrived at home the first of the week from a visit of several months with a sister near Stafford, in the San Joaquin Valley.

Lawrence Pierce has moved into the house at 1654 Oak street.

RESOURCEFUL WOMAN

Dr. Dudley A. Sargent of Harvard holds that sex is no bar to military service—that a woman would make as good a soldier as a man.

Doctor Sargent, at a tea in Boston, said to a group of flattered, smiling girls:

"Why shouldn't you indeed make as good soldiers as men? Look how resourceful you are."

"I know a young fellow who said to a girl, doubtfully:

"I consulted a palmist last evening and she told me I would marry a brunette within three months."

"The girl, tossing her golden head, answered with a roguish smile:

"Well, I can easily be a brunette by that time, Jack."

AND THE COOK IS A BEAR

"Everyone in our family is some kind of animal," said Jimmie to the amazed preacher.

"Why, you shouldn't say that!" exclaimed the good man.

"Well," said Jimmie, "mother's a dear, the baby is mother's little lamb, I'm the kid and dad's the goat."

BURBANK

Omens of the future. Could but a seer visit Burbank today and foretell the future city to be situated here in the heart of the growing, throbbing San Fernando valley.

To look from a crest a stranger saw: A new grammar school being built; numerous homes; a Presbyterian church; two new business blocks just completed; two telephone companies busy putting in exchanges and establishing systems; a municipal electric department extending lines in the northern part of the city; and then all of the things already established.

And the seer would add: A new city hall and firehouse; further extension of street lighting and boulevard lamps; more new homes; and more new faces.

Burbank's on the boom. The tide has turned. Burbank has bright days ahead, says the stranger.

W. E. Kirkpatrick and family of 536 Angelina street spent from Monday to Saturday of last week at the San Diego exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood have taken the front apartment of the Fourth street apartments, while Mrs. Snuffin has taken No. 2.

The Big Thanksgiving Sale of Linens at McBratney's Irish Linen Store, Butler Bldg., Brand Blvd., opp. P. E. Station, should be a great attraction for every woman in this vicinity. Covers were laid for the Misses Neva Blanchard, Jessie Harper, Christine Harper, Claire Glenn and the Messrs. Jack Meares, Howard Ward and Ward Shelton. After dinner the evening was spent enjoying cards and music.

Death of T. F. Ogier

The funeral of T. F. Ogier was held at the Burbank Christian church Monday, Nov. 15, at 2 p. m. Mr. Ogier lived in Burbank for a number of years until two years ago when he moved with his family to Imperial valley, where he had lived. Last Friday evening he was in an auto accident that caused his death. Mr. Ogier leaves a wife and several children to mourn his death. The funeral services were held by the Masonic lodge and a great many of the old friends and neighbors were present to pay their respects to their departed friend.

At Burbank High School

Principal Livingston of the Burbank High School, in an interview with the Progress reporter, had the following to say of activities in his institution:

This Friday evening Burbank meets the Alhambra and Compton schools in a triangular debate. The subject is: Resolved, That the Foreign Immigration to United States be Restricted by the Imposition of the Educational Test. Walter Story and Lyman Kanst will debate here with Alhambra's representatives, while Hugh Pomeroy and Edgar Boss will go to Compton. It might be mentioned that Mr. Boss has taken the debate in hand only three days ago, but Mr. Livingston feels confident of victory. About fifty local students will accompany the team to Compton, while a larger number will stay here to boost for the home team.

Basketball, too, according to the principal, will prove successful this year. A squad of about twenty are working out nightly and at least two first class teams will be formed. Mr. Livingston, who is coaching the basketball team, feels that his boys will put up a splendid game against the Hollywood High School Junior college team which is to be played Friday, Nov. 26 (the day after Thanksgiving) on the Burbank campus. A great enthusiastic crowd is expected.

An innovation in the line of musical instruction has been introduced recently in Burbank High. Miss Alma Squires, teacher of piano, will give instruction two days a week to High School pupils who have study periods. Already the enrollment is excellent and the piano in the gymnasium is serving as "studio" at present. The splendid feature about this course is that it costs the pupil nothing.

HE GOT THE NEW SUIT

"When I was a boy of your age I used to have to wear my father's trousers cut down to fit me."

"I know, pa, and if you were the boy that I think you were I'll bet you vowed many a time that if you ever had a son he'd never be made to wear such clothes."

STUDYING EFFECTS

"Shall I put a little tonic on your hair?" inquired the barber.

"No."

"It's getting quite thin."

"Let it alone. A bald head is the only thing that will give me any claim to an intellectual appearance."

MISS VIRGINIA DAILY

Who warbles grand opera and popular ballads while mounted on the educated horse, King George. Fifty trained carrier pigeons carry "request" numbers from the audience to the singer. The act is one of the many novelties introduced on the program of the Al G. Barnes wild animal circus that's to be in Glendale Tuesday, November 23.

A troupe of over 600 educated wild and domestic animals comprise the entertainers with the Al G. Barnes wild animal circus, which is the greatest array of animal-actor talent ever assembled together. Ferocious man-eating lions, tigers, leopards and jaguars, docile Sahara camels, human-like orang-outangs, ponderous elephants, seals and sea lions, kangaroos, bears, zebras, stately horses and beautiful ponies, dogs, goats and almost every known animal work together in perfect union in the rendition of a unique, attention-grIPPING, thrilling program.

Performances are given at 2 and 8 p. m. and the glittering mile-long parade is presented to the public at 10:30. The date for Glendale is Tuesday, November 23.
